By removing excess carbon build-up and freeing some components within your vehicles engine, and clearing the airways within the engine, savings can be achieved by the engine running more freely. Any economy savings are dependent on the level of carbon congestion and dependent on the manner in which a vehicle is driven. Carbo-Clean.com or any technicians cannot state any predicted savings.

Power Gains: The brake horse power (BHP) and torque gain information estimated by Carbo-Clean or any technicians are estimates and dependent on the Carbon congestion build up within a vehicles engine.

Reduced emissions: By removing Caron build-up from within the engine and from major engine components you can expect to see a reduction in vehicle emissions. However if there are any underlying issues with your vehicle that are causing an increase in vehicle emissions it should not be expected that a Carbo-Clean service can rectify those issues and emissions may not be reduced
